Most of U.S. Weather Today Is Wet, Nasty

Rain, Sleet, Snow Spreads over Wide Area of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wet weather, in the form of rain, sleet and snow, spread across broad sections of the nation today but storms which swept into the Northeast abated.

Damaging floods in Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming eased, with thousands of persons starting huge cleanup operations. Many communities and thousands of acres of farm land still were inundated from the midwinter overflows caused by the melting of snowpacks in mountain regions.

The fast-moving storm which moved into the Northeast dumped more than a foot of snow in sections of New York state, mainly in the eastern region. An unofficial fall of two feet of snow was reported in Kingston, N.Y.

Five inches of snow fell in Providence, R.I., and four inches in Albany, N.Y., during a six-hour period. Schools in some sections of the snow belt were closed. Driving was hazardous in many areas. Two persons died of overexertion in New York state while shoveling snow.

Snow and snow flurries continued during the night and early morning in the extreme eastern Ohio Valley, the northern and central Appalachians, the New England Coast and in the extreme northern Plains.

Other wet spots in the Plains region extended from Kansas and Nebraska to Oklahoma and central and eastern Texas, with rain and showers.

The third major wet belt covered Pacific Coast region. Rain spread from southern Oregon to south central California. More than one inch doused Red Bluff, Calif., in a six-hour period, with one inch in San Francisco.

No severe cold was reported, with temperatures above zero throughout the country. Lowest readings were in northern New England.

Mild weather prevailed in most of the South, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s and the 70s in southern Texas.

In the western flood sections, Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho estimated damage in the southeastern part of the state at more than $5 million. President Kennedy has declared the section a disaster area and $250,000 is to be sought from the federal government for emergency aid.

Damage in Wyoming has been estimated unofficially at $1.2 million.

Bloodmobile Visit Set for Tomorrow

The Bloodmobile will make its second visit of the 1962 season Friday at the First Methodist Church.

The mobile unit will set up operations at 11 a. m. and will remain open until 5 p. m. Local Red Cross Chapter officials said the quota has been set at 125 pints.

Last month's quota of 125 was passed by seven pints. Donor officials here said they hope the fine turnout will be repeated tomorrow.

The Red Cross announced that there is a real need for types B-negative and O-negative blood. The supply of these types has been seriously depleted due to increased use by two lung surgery patients in Columbus hospitals.

Only emergency patients are being scheduled for transfusions in these two types until the supply is replenished to its normal level.

Pike County Atom Plant Payroll Is Cut to 1,550

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Diminution of the labor force at the Pike County Atomic Energy Commission plant probably will level off soon, says General Manager G. H. Reynolds of Goodyear Atomic Corp.

Reynolds said after conferring with AEC officials that he expects the plant to maintain a basic work force of about 1,550.

Robert Kennedy Cheered, Jeered

JOGJAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy drew a mixture of cheers and jeers today after challenging student hecklers "if you disagree with any aspect of American policy step forward—come up here and tell me."

Only one student of Jogjakarta's Gadjah Mada University came hesitatingly forward with a long question referring to the American "capitalistic and monopolistic society."

Jabbing his finger toward the youth, the U.S. attorney general launched into a long statement on U.S. life and politics. Showing flashes of anger, Kennedy told the students at one point to grow up when they attempted to pin him down on the U.S. attitude toward Indonesia's claim to Dutch-held West New Guinea.

After reiterating that the United States felt ownership of the Indonesian archipelago should be determined by negotiations, he added heatedly: "You should be more mature. Here, you've had the benefit of an education and you cannot expect the United States to agree with everything you do."

The attorney general said his brother, President Kennedy, was injured in the Pacific during World War II partly to free Indonesia and during the same time American soldiers were seeking to free Holland.

"We retain ties with both countries and we want a peaceful settlement between you," he said repeating the theme he has been stressing since arriving in Indonesia with his wife on Monday on a good-will tour.

A member of the Kennedy party, emphasized the attorney general "is under no instructions" to mediate the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea.

The spokesman's comment came in reply to newsmen who asked about Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio's statement that he would like to see the United States and Indonesia become "one nation."

Phone Toll Cut Chances Slim

PUCO Is Given Hint Of Rate Hike Instead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chances appeared dim today for any agreement to cut intrastate telephone toll rates as result of a forthcoming switch in certain Ohio Bell Telephone Co. expenses.

In fact, Public Utilities Commission members heard hints of a possible future request for rate increases.

Thurton L. Pendleton of Cleveland, Ohio Bell vice president, told PUCO members that additional revenues realized from the switch in expenses will help postpone a rate increase request.

"This bookkeeping shift is the only plus factor we have had in the last three years," Pendleton said at an informal session with PUCO members Wednesday. He referred to a 1959 rate increase.

"It will help us postpone the day when we will have no other recourse but to ask a higher rate," Pendleton added.

John Preston of Cleveland, Ohio Bell counsel, explained telephone officials "are not suggesting we are about to bring in a rate increase case."

PUCO Chairman Frances McGovern had asked Ohio Bell officials to meet with the commission to discuss the possible effect of a $1.6 million bookkeeping switch in toll expenses from Ohio Bell to its parent American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

It is part of a $46 million shift nationally in interstate long distance expenses by the Federal Communications Commission effective in April.

After the meeting, Miss McGovern said she is "most hopeful" the commission can "work out an agreement with the company to pass on this benefit to the consumer."

"We hope we can find a basis for negotiation with the company," she added.

Science Hopes To Duplicate Venus 'Air'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Space scientists hope to bring the environment of Venus down to earth by filling an enormous tank with sunshine and draining it of air.

At Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, they call the contraption an environmental simulator. What it is, actually, is a $4-million tank full of space.

So who needs it? Scientists say they do, to reproduce the severe environments to be encountered by space vehicles like the Mariner — which will be sent on a scientific mission to the vicinity of Venus later this year.

Vacuum chambers have been built before to reproduce conditions in space. But this one is different. For one thing, it is the largest ever built in the United States. It's cylindrical — shaped like a silo — and is 80 feet high and 27 feet in diameter. It has a steel shell capable of withstanding more than 1,000 pounds of pressure per square foot. More important, it is the first to employ a lighting system that will come close to duplicating the rays of the sun as they are encountered in space.

So, OK, We'll Try Again Tomorrow To Orbit Glenn

HECK WITH POSTPONEMENT, say "astronaut" John Carr, 4, and "propellant" Mike Eierman, 4, as they "launch" their "Friendship 7 Trashcraft" at Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Psychologist Explains Why Astronaut Not Irked by Delay

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Today's new delay in his space voyage doesn't find John H. Glenn Jr. "sitting on his hands, fretting."

For this astronaut, needed eventually for a great venture, is a man "remarkably able to bear frustration," says Dr. Robert Voas, a psychologist who is training officer for America's seven astronauts.

Furthermore, Glenn is busier than most people realize and the activity helps him handle the long waits and last-minute postponements, Dr. Voas said.

To many people, the idea of riding into space is frightening. To come close to the moment of pushing the button—and having that moment stayed again and again—could seem an unbearable strain. How can an astronaut take it?

Partly it is because of training, the psychologist explains. Space flight is more like an ordinary job with John that concern for his personal safety is a very important item. I think that is typical of all the astronauts—men who have lived with danger all their lives and learned to live well with it.

To the experienced test pilot of aircraft, the step into space is a next logical development. He's prepared to accept delays because of "bugs" developing in complex craft. But he's also familiar with all aspects of his plane—or his spacecraft—and repeatedly flies pretend missions.

The delays, if they have had any effect, have "generally been beneficial," Dr. Voas believes. When wear or a mechanical problem says "No go," Glenn is soon occupied with meetings and continued training. That helps combat frustration, Dr. Voas said.

The center of this storm is located about 950 miles east of Bermuda.

The postponement was announced by Paul Haney, news director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, at 1:18 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Foul Weather Scrubs Launch For Ninth Time

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Weather-plagued scientists prepared today for another attempt Friday to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit but the odds still were heavily against them.

A 54-mile-an-hour gale sweeping across the central Atlantic forced the United States to cancel the effort early today. It was the ninth postponement.

Prospects for Friday were just as ragged and the Weather Bureau said Saturday would be "very much of a lost cause" so far as weather is concerned.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the operations director, Walter C. Williams, would take another close look at the weather at midnight tonight and make a decision then on whether to go ahead with the Friday launch attempt.

The storm, covering an area of about 27,000 square miles, was driving 18-foot waves through the area where Glenn would have to land in event of an emergency during the first few minutes after liftoff.

The center of this storm is located about 950 miles east of Bermuda.

The postponement was announced by Paul Haney, news director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, at 1:18 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

7 Children Are Killed In Illinois Home Fire

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Six young brothers and a neighbor girl perished Wednesday night in a fire which destroyed their small frame house in nearby St. Anne Woods. The victims ranged in age from 1½ to 12 years.

The mother of the six boys, Gwendolyn Mallory, 40, a widow, was at a neighbor's home, about a mile away in Pembroke Township, when the fire broke out about 11:30 p. m.

Idle Pay Claims Dip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of continuing unemployment claims stands at 132,141 against an average of 228,084 for February 1961. New claims totaled 17,281 last week, down from 18,324 the previous week.

Bank Robbers On Schedule

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Two armed men, their faces heavily smeared with makeup, spent less than five minutes in robbing the five points branch of First National Bank of $24,000.

They walked into the bank at 1:40 p. m., Wednesday, and ran out when one robber shouted, "Time."

One man held the bank employes at bay and acted as timekeeper; the other moved from cage to cage cleaning out the teller's receipts.

"Time" came while the collection bandit was still gathering up money. He stopped immediately, turned, and ran out the door with his companion. They fled by car.

SHERILL, N.Y. (AP) — The Shues are going to need a lot more shoes. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shue, who were the parents of five children, today became the parents of triplet boys.

Arms Conference Already Troubled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big new disarmament conference set for Geneva March 14 appears to be in serious trouble a month before it opens.

Just how serious the trouble is should be determined in the next week or so by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's next move in his campaign for a summit level meeting.

If Khrushchev insists on going personally to Geneva for the opening sessions, U. S. officials said today, his action will be taken here and in other Western capitals as evidence that he is concerned only with propaganda aims.

If, however, he is prepared to put off his summit proposal until some later stage of the negotiations, officials said that his action could be taken as an indication that he is interested in making a serious start on disarmament, even at the cost of some small concession to Western views.

In view of the speed with which the situation has developed during the past week, the expectation in government quarters here is that a new Khrushchev message to President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and other leaders involved in making preparations for the Geneva talks should be forthcoming in a few days.

At the moment, top officials believe there is a better than 50 per cent chance that Khrushchev will go to Geneva, even though Macmillan and Kennedy have argued against starting the talks at the summit, and Kennedy is reported to be personally determined not to go under any circumstances. This estimate of Khrushchev's probable action is based, among other things, on a belief that he probably wants a forum of international importance in which to sound off against the prospective new series of atmospheric nuclear weapons tests by the United States.

Kennedy made clear at his news conference Wednesday that he intends to make the final decision on atmospheric tests around the end of the month. It is widely expected that he will decide in favor of testing and that the first shots will be fired in early March, prior to the Geneva conference opening.

Some highly placed officials said that if Khrushchev wants to keep alive the prospect of a summit meeting he probably would not find it difficult to back away from his 18-nation proposal. They speculated that he might ask for a three-power meeting among himself, Kennedy and Macmillan.

U.S. Attache Is Slain in Leopoldville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The assistant U.S. military attache in Leopoldville, Lt. Col. Hulen D. Stogner, 39, of El Paso, Tex., was shot in the head Wednesday night as he lay on his bed reading.

He died an hour later without regaining consciousness.

Within two hours, a Congolese chauffeur was arrested but a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said questioning of him had provided no useful information.

The chauffeur was held in custody by U.N. Nigerian police, and a search was launched for Stogner's Congolese house boy and his night watchman.

U.N. and Congolese police were investigating the killing. No weapon was found, but plaster casts were taken of footprints found outside Stogner's quarters.

Nearly 500 Congolese troops encircled the Parc Hemibre residential section of Leopoldville within an hour of the attack. They searched all houses in the vicinity, including quarters of other diplomats.

G. McMurtrie Godley, U.S. charge d'affaires, said an embassy secretary, Miss Elizabeth Tring of Washington, D.C., was sitting in the room with Stogner when the single shot was fired.

Barmaid Irritated By Man's 'Stares'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Send somebody over to the One-Eleven," she whispered, "some man just keeps staring at me."

Miami police received that telephone call Wednesday from Amelia Madelis, a barmaid. She called again: "Hurry please."

The man sat on a bar stool. He was hunched over slightly and stared at Mrs. Madelis without saying a word.

Police walked up to the man. He was dead.

A medical examiner said Norman Peterson, 46, of Miami, died of natural causes.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p. m. today.

Ohioan Slated For Honors In Lifesaving

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Alfred Tanner never did find out the name of the man he rescued from the Ohio River, but it earned him a silver medal.

Tanner, a lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard Reserve, was headed for Washington, D.C., today for the annual Reserve Officers Association dinner. The award was to be a dinner highlight.

Tanner, head of physical education in Talawanda School District, plunged into the river last April to save a man pitched into the water when a small private boat capsized. The rescued man and his friends left the scene, and Tanner said nothing about it to others.

The incident might have passed unnoticed except that passengers on a nearby ferry boat saw the rescue and noted Tanner's auto license. They told the Cincinnati Coast Guard office which made its own investigation.

Tanner said he sometimes made similar rescues at a beach near Akron where he works in summer as a life guard.

Steel Parley Going Ahead Smoothly

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Top negotiators meet today in steel labor contract talks that seem to be following right along the course set by President Kennedy.

Key bargaining teams headed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, and R. Conrad Cooper of U. S. Steel, chief industry negotiator, were to meet in their first formal session.

It seemed clear, however, they had gotten together beforehand, not once but frequently, and already have pretty well worked over their area of differences toward early new agreements to succeed the industry labor pacts expiring June 30.

Cooper, for example, told newsmen Wednesday that the industry-union human relations committee, which has been meeting regularly for some time, has worked out certain joint recommendations. Just what, he would not say. Nor would McDonald.

Both men expressed bright hope—as 1962 steel bargaining got under way to an unprecedented early and amicable start Wednesday—that they could achieve the quick, non-inflationary deal with little or no price boost that the White House has been urging.

Wednesday's bargaining opener brought together about 500 steel mill managers and an equal number of local union officials divided into 11 sessions representing the major steel companies.

These were "sound off" meetings designed to let local people let off steam and relate views built up since the 1959 contract was negotiated after a record 116-day strike.

New Tax Plan Hinted Coming

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy next year will propose a new tax plan which would treat all income alike and eliminate special exemptions of some royalties and capital gains, says Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin.

Caplin pointed to "some" min-interview the changes would allow lower taxes without loss of revenue.

Caplin pointed to "some" mineral royalties and the capital gains when asked for specifics. He said they would be treated as straight income.

He said a lower rate of 15 per cent on income tax would be substituted for the current 20 per cent and the present top rate of 91 per cent would be dropped to 65. Caplin said he hoped the income tax form could be made simpler.

Injured Youth, 15, In 'Poor' Condition

Harry D. McManis, 15, Route 1, Laurelville, seriously injured Tuesday when his motor scooter and a car collided near South Perry in Hocking County, was reported in "poor" condition today in Berger Hospital.

The youth suffered fractures of both legs and severe body lacerations. He was still unconscious today.

Revival Services Open At Christian Union

Revival services opened last night in the Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 E. Ohio St. The Rev. A. B. Malory of Wellspring, former pastor of the Hamilton EUB Church, will speak each evening through Sunday. The services begin at 7:30 and the public is invited.

Foul Weather

weather briefing for Project Mercury Director Walter C. Williams at the Cape Canaveral control center. The briefing began at midnight.

Immediately after the decision was made, the White House was advised of the further delay in the planned launch which was first scheduled for Dec. 20.

Glenn was awakened at 1:05 a.m. by his doctor, William Douglas, and advised of postponement. Subsequently Douglas said that Glenn appeared to be somewhat disappointed and the doctor quoted Glenn as saying:

"Everything is still go but the weather. When we get weather we will go." The doctor said Glenn then went back to bed.

At a postmidnight weather briefing for newsmen, Haney said: "Unsatisfactory weather in the central and eastern Atlantic caused postponement of the launch attempt for at least 24 hours."

That would mean sometime between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Friday.

The area of concern involved seas between here and Bermuda and the Canary Islands. These are the regions in which Glenn would land in event of an emergency on liftoff or if he failed to be inserted into a proper orbit.

As for the areas where he would land at the end of the first, second or third orbits both the seas and winds were reported moderate.

A moderate wind varies between 11 and 16 knots, while a moderate sea has rollers of about five feet. Normal is three foot waves.

Around the Canary Islands where Glenn would be landed if he failed to achieve orbit the winds were described as "fresh"—17 to 21 knots.

NASA has made it clear in previous statements that Glenn would not be launched if the seas in any of the vital areas exceeded five feet and the winds were stronger than 18 knots.

Stock Market Nudges Upside

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nudged to the upside on balance early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 to 262.20 with industrials up 1.20, rails up .10 and utilities up .20.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers in the same range.

Steels were fairly steady. Chrysler was a strong point in a rising motor section.

Aerospace issues wallowed in irregularity. Tobacco, drugs and chemicals were generally higher. Chrysler spurred about 2 points.

Ford was up close to a point. General Motors and American Motors added fractions.

City Policemen Due for Classwork

Members of the Circleville Police Department will receive special instruction here Saturday during a school presented by the Ohio Liquor Department.

The Saturday morning class will be presented in the remodeled area of the City Hall basement. Representatives from the Liquor Department will handle the instruction.

Last Saturday officers received instructions on narcotics, presented by Lloyd Shupe, Columbus Police chemist.

Texan Waxes Enthusiastic About Guam

AGANA, Guam (AP)—Take a Texan and put him to running the civil government of a tropical U.S. island, and what have you got?

In the case of Bill Daniel, governor of Guam, one obvious answer is activity.

Daniel, 46-year-old brother of Texas Gov. Price Daniel, approaches his job with evangelistic fervor.

Pouring a cup of young coconut juice punch—the strongest thing served at the governor's palace—he switches easily from such topics as beef cattle to tourism to "the wonderful people of Guam."

The talk goes like this:

"Our biggest economic problems lies in the fact that our people have left the soil. In years past Guam has produced almost everything it has consumed, but more recently the people have relied on the grocery store and the freezer while drawing good pay in industrial jobs. . . modern farming and ranching methods are unheard of on Guam and therein lies our main trouble."

"We have much rich acreage lying idle when it should be producing foodstuffs. We have been importing 90 per cent of what we eat. . . The health of our people is suffering because they are not getting a proper diet of fresh fruits and vegetables. . .

"These are things that have kept me going almost around the clock since I came here last May."

Steel Car Sale Total May Hit $1 Million

YOUNGSTOWN Ohio (AP) — The Milton J. Wershow Co. said 500 persons from 30 states were on hand for the first day of the sale of assets of Youngstown Steel Car Corp.

A Wershow spokesman declined to say how much money was realized from the sale. However, an unofficial estimate based on Wednesday's auction was that total proceeds of the two-day sale would come to about $1 million.

The United Steelworkers Union has filed suit against Youngstown Steel Car and Wershow to protect pension rights of 120 union members who were laid off when the steel car plant at nearby Niles was closed down last September.

The union alleged that union members had accrued $984,974 for pensions and $125,000 for insurance under its contract with Youngstown Steel Car. Now the complaint charges, the firm says it has sold its asset and has no fund to pay any pensions.

A hearing on the USW action is scheduled in U.S. District Court Monday. The hearing originally was scheduled for Friday, but it was postponed because of illness in the family of Judge Frank J. Battisti.

Harsha Asks Support for Dam Project

William H. Harsha, Ohio Sixth District congressman, has obtained a recommendation from the Water Resources Committee of the Mississippi Valley Assn. for Congress to provide sufficient funds for advance engineering and planning for the Big Darby Reservoir project.

Although the association did not lend its support to the Deer Creek and Paint Creek reservoir projects, congressman Harsha said the group's support of the Big Darby project will be of great help in his efforts to persuade the House Appropriations Committee to provide sufficient funds for preconstruction funding of the Big Darby project.

Harsha said the reservoir would have a tremendous impact upon flood protection problems at Chillicothe.

The Sixth District Representative said he will continue to press for sufficient funds to cover the preconstruction engineering phase of the Deer Creek and Paint Creek projects. He noted that in addition to flood control value, they would do much to alleviate unemployment in the area, provide adequate water supply for industrial and domestic use and stimulate growth and provide much needed recreational facilities.

The Jackson-Muhlenburg Parent Teachers Society, meeting in session, announced that the annual Jackson High School Athletic banquet sponsored by the PTS will be held April 14.

Jerry Lucas, Ohio State basketball All-American will be the guest speaker at the banquet.

The program for the evening was a panel discussion on the subject of "Home-School Relations". Pickaway County Probation officer Ralph Starkey was the moderator.

Guest speaker on the panel was Dr. W. Lloyd Sprouse of Ohio State University.

Other panel members were Mrs. George Neff, Mrs. Ned Walker and Mr. Hillis Hall.

Teary Greetings

DEAR ABBY: What has happened to the lovely tradition of sending Christmas cards with chery greetings? Last Christmas we got several "newsletters" from friends with pages of information about their doings of the past year. One was the pay-off. It was a 12-page mimeographed sob story beginning with how they had a flood in their basement. Ther, their dog was hit by a car. All their children were down with the mumps at once. "Grandpa Drexel" had his teeth extracted and "Cousin Hazel," who had been a widow for 12 years, who "still lonesome." We didn't even know these people. My husband had been in the service with this man years ago. We received another one. It was all about a kidney operation. I ask you! Is this your idea of a Christmas greeting?

BUCKET OF TEARS
DEAR BUCKET: Indeed not. It's only an excuse for not having written for a year and a device to keep in touch. Good intentions, but usually boring.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and

More plans and surprises have been prepared this week for the coming Ashville Women's Civic Club annual Style Show to be held March 1 in the Ashville School Auditorium. Clothing apparel from both The Children and Deb Shop and Sharff's Women's Apparel of Circleville will be modeled by both the ladies of the club and their children.

Door prizes are being obtained from many merchants. Special entertainment has been secured for intermission time. Mary Pierce, a local hairdresser and a member of the club, will give a short hair styling and comb-out demonstration.

A vocal quartet, will present a short program. Members are Miss Mary Ellen Downs, Miss Donna Jean Walker, Miss Gretchen Hott, and Mrs. Don Welsh. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Gail Wolfe Jr. of Circleville.

All proceeds from the style show will be used towards the Scholarship Fund that is given annually by the club to a student at Ashville High School.

MARY PIERCE, a local hairdresser, will appear on a new television program, "Beauty Fair", Sunday afternoon on Channel 4 at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Pierce, a recent winner in the Ohio State School of Cosmetology Hair Coloring and Styling Contest, will appear along with other alumni winners and their models.

Kelly Ann Miles, the 3-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Miles, 3575 Grace St., Columbus, died Feb. 8 at her home. Relatives said the child died of internal bleeding from a rare virus pneumonia.

Kelly Ann was the granddaughter of Robert C. and Isabelle Graham Miles and great granddaughter of Mrs. A. W. Graham, a former resident of Ashville.

Factory Work Week Is Shaved in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has reported the factory work week declined in January because of a sharp cutback in overtime in the auto industry and less work time in a number of other industries.

The work week declined by seven-tenths of an hour—nearly 45 minutes—to 39.9 hours. The department said the decline was more than seasonal but undoubtedly was largely due to stormy winter weather.

Mammoth Gear Needed for Moon Jaunt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fantastic mathematics of weight and size needed to reach the moon, a superquick memory for scientists, and a new approach to bring science to young school children are subjects for Science at Work.

Thinking Ahead
The United States is aiming at getting a man to the moon. But take a look at what it will take to do the job.

A mammoth rocket, still being designed, called the Saturn C5, will land a man on the moon or carry a man around the moon, says Dr. Werner von Braun of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Saturn C5 is a real space age giant, weighing as much as a naval destroyer. It will stand 350 feet tall, and be 33 feet in diameter. Its weight—about 3,000 tons—is about the same as 25 fully loaded Boeing 707 jetliners.

This 35-story, flying skyscraper will be able to put into orbit a capsule that weighs almost as much as one Boeing jetliner.

To carry three men to the moon and bring them back safely, Dr. von Braun says, will take a Nova rocket — almost three times as powerful as the Saturn C5.

Thin, Fast Memory
Scientists have made themselves a memory which can sort out a stowed bit of information in less than 100 billionths of a second.

Our brains and nerves operate at speeds considerably slower—but the brain still amazes computer scientists with the amount of information it can store within the confines of the skull.

The new electronic machinery is an experimental design of International Business Machines Corp. It actually records bits of data on a magnetized film laid down on a highly polished silver plate. The extremely fast speed will allow the memory to be used as a sort of a scratch pad or index memory for the more complex computers of the future.

For your children—even in first grade and sometimes kindergarten, there is a beginning look at science. Teachers are finding high pupil interest in subjects that range from satellites to the weather.

One new encyclopedia has been designed for the youngest pupil. Each definition has an explanation in big type, simply worded followed by a detailed, more difficult explanation in smaller type for the more advanced reader.

Included too are simple experiments for the classroom. Now being offered to schools and to libraries, the "Young People's Science Encyclopedia" (Children's Press)—may soon be offered to families too.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) —The whole tortured and gloomy problem of disarmament is summed up in two conditions laid down by President Kennedy.

1. Any disarmament agreement, he told his news conference Wednesday, would have to cover the world and that must ultimately include Red China.

2. And he said any agreement must include an effective inspection system.

So one condition requires approval by the unpredictable—Red China. The other — inspection — calls for agreement on what has been unobtainable after years of negotiations.

But the Red Chinese, whom this country won't even recognize as the legitimate government of mainland China, are not among the 18 nations which sit down at Geneva March 14 to try to reach a disarmament agreement.

Even if the 18 did reach an agreement it could not, in Kennedy's own words, have real meaning unless Red China was truly brought in and, this is the truly unpredictable point, agree to what the 18 had agreed.

The ultimate problem is as simple—and as horribly complex—as that, remembering it's the Red Chinese who despise the doctrine of "peaceful coexistence" and insist communism must triumph through conflict.

The more immediate problem, just as complex, is getting the United States and Russia to agree on disarmament terms which include an inspection system to prevent cheating. Russia says inspection is spying.

The two sides have kicked World War II. Banning nuclear tests became linked with it after 1954, a year in which the United under increasing pressure to talk about banning tests altogether. They started talking Oct. 31, 1958, and on, and off, had 353 sessions which finally broke up Jan. 29, 1962.

In that time it might seem they made some progress: They agreed to a preamble and 17 ar-cles of a draft treaty; and Russia even made a switch and accepted the American principle of inspection.

If that looks impressive, it shouldn't.

1. The Russians, who had refused to consider making test bans a part of general disarmament talks, made a switch and decided they should be handled together.

Then, when the United States agreed to this, Russia re-switched and said: Nothing doing.

2. While the Soviets agreed to the principle of inspection they made a job of it by insisting that (a) the chief inspector on Russian territory must be a Russian and (b) that Russia could veto inspection.

So years of talking boil down to this: The Russians have refused to agree to any inspection system that means anything; and, without it, Kennedy says there can be no agreement.

At this writing it isn't even clear the United States and Russia will agree — at the 18-nation disarmament talks next month — to make a nuclear test ban part of the negotiations.

Therefore this past week's rumour—Premier Khrushchev's proposal for an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament and Kennedy's rejection of it until progress is made—has no meaning so far as agreement goes.

By James Marlow

Kennedy and Khrushchev don't have to be there to show they mean business. If they do, they can instruct their representatives to talk business.

Against this background some pessimism about the outcome is understandable.

Embezzler Indicted For Theft in Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A grand jury has indicted a man, who was sent to prison for embezzling $384,000 on a charge of being up to his old tricks while in the penitentiary.

Daniel O. Tobias, 60, of Fletcher, Miami County, was indicted in connection with the embezzlement, this time, of a paltry $81.

Three years ago Tobias was sent to the penitentiary for a huge embezzlement at the Hobart Manufacturing Co. where he was a bookkeeper. He used the money to invest in antiques.

After Tobias was paroled last November he was charged with embezzlement from the cashier's office at the penitentiary. Police contend he made out the dependency vouchers to his sister against the account of another inmate for $27 each.

Wife-Torture Simplified

A Canadian psychiatrist reports that eye color is a scientific key to personality. His findings:

Blue eyed people are ambitious, logical, opinionated, lacking in emotional insight, mechanically inclined, and do not understand love or non-verbal communication.

Brown-eyed persons are stubborn, emotional full of guilt, have strong drives for food, sex and sleep, fear failure, have little regard for law, and are hysteria-prone.

In between shades — gray, green and hazel eyes — show other personality variations between the extremes.

There is a strong probability the reports have overstated the good doctor's case, but no matter. His doctrine hasn't a chance of acceptance. No one in this world is going to admit hysteria (brown), disregard for the law (brown), being opinionated (blue), or failure to understand love (blue), least of all because of eye color.

But it would be a fascinating parlor game to play. It would soothe the wife no end to hear, "You can't help being hysterical, dear. You're brown-eyed, after all."

Secret of Women: Blind Luck

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — What's right with women?

Men, who usually feel inferior in the presence of superior beings, spend considerable time knocking women and saying what's wrong with them.

The usual wall is: "Women are illogical, capricious and unreasonable. They are too demanding. They act like the world was made just for them. They don't have any real brains, and if they did, they wouldn't know what to do with them."

There is, it must be admitted, some validity to these criticisms, however tinged they may be with masculine vanity and downright envy.

It is probably true also that most women lack what men call "plain ordinary common horse sense." On the other hand, why do they need horse sense? What is the fate of even the most sensible horse in this world, compared to that of the average woman?

If a man is honest enough to drop his prejudices, he has no trouble piercing the so-called mystery of women. He has no trouble figuring out why women outlive men, get to spend most of the money men earn, and generally are better adjusted to life and its problems.

The answer is simple: Women are born lucky—and believe in luck all their days. Men aren't—and don't.

It is this magic difference that makes men doubt themselves and wilt under the buffets of time. Hardship may bend a woman, but they rarely break her. For she dwells in sublime great expectations. She knows her natal gift of good luck will surely change the situation for the better.

Luck is illogical, capricious, unpredictable and unreasonable. That is why women are too. And it is their blind belief in their luck that gives them the supreme self-confidence which men mistake for arrogance.

It isn't their intuition that saves them. It's just that unfair advantage of having been born lucky. Any man who has had any experience at all with women can find many instances to prove this theory.

A man is crazy to look for a wife who is merely intelligent, clever, or blatantly beautiful. The thing to do is to look around and marry the one who has the best knack of beating the laws of chance.

Then trust to luck—hers! Maybe some of it will rub off on you.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor is taking a particularly jaundiced view of 1962's merger proposals.

It has never liked corporate get-togethers that might mean fewer jobs through elimination of duplicated work or closing less profitable plants.

But today the subject is doubly touchy.

Unemployment is higher than anyone likes. Mergers, running at around a thousand in each of the last three years, is blamed by labor for some of this.

Automation—mechanization of plants that let machines do much of the work formerly done by men—is blamed even more for drying up job opportunities. Labor thinks mergers favor automation, both by keeping the automated plant running and closing the less modern one, and by making the resulting united company big enough to afford the price of more automation.

And finally, many of today's proposed mergers are aimed at cutting costly competition and duplication even more than at just making one big company prosper where two or more smaller ones struggled along before. Labor translates this, rightly or wrongly, into the loss of jobs wherever the duplication is eliminated.

Take the railroads. When the Pennsylvania and the New York Central said they wanted to merge, the Transport Workers Union immediately threatened to strike unless guaranteed that every present job would be preserved.

That threat was turned over to the federal courts. And now a union-sponsored study urges an immediate moratorium on railroad mergers, until a broad national transportation policy can be worked out.

Management's reply is that the merger would be in the interests of the employees because the resulting giant railway would prosper, assuring jobs. Without the merger, the roads contend, they face continuing loss of business and perhaps even bankruptcy.

Whenever a corporate merger, in whatever field, threatens job piling, management tries to convince workers they should look beyond the immediate personal loss to the opportunity for long-term gains. The argument is that a merger by making the resulting company larger and stronger increases available funds for new plants, equipment, sales activity. All of this, management says, means sooner or later more jobs in factory, in the office, in the sales and distribution activities.

Management uses the same arguments about automation, which in many workers' minds is linked with the strong trend toward merging, either as a cause or an effect. And in all events, automation is linked in workers' minds with the loss of jobs to machines and with the high and still stubborn volume of unemployment.

White collar workers and the executive class often fear mergers as much as do the factory, mill or rail and airline workers. After a corporate marriage it's often hard to find places for two executives who have been doing the same line of work, or for two clerical workers when one piece of paper may now take the place of the two when the companies were separate.

It's all very well to tell workers—sometimes even to show them—that in the long run there'll be more work, not less. It's the short run that the worker sees. And he doesn't like to contemplate it from the line at the employment office.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Don't get me wrong. I'm all for automation, but it'll wreck our bowling team."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PATRICK WAS A FIGHTING MAN from the word go, but unfortunately he was lost in a gale in Galway Bay last winter. A neighbor stopped by to offer his widow a bit of consolation.

"Poor Pat," sighed the neighbor, "No doubt he's hitting the harp with the angels by now."

"Not him," replied the widow. "If I know my Pat, it's more likely he's hitting the angels with the harp!"

Mrs. Housewife persuaded her overworked husband to take her to a night club—the first one he had tried, he proclaimed, since he had been a junior at Princeton. The doorman at the club, however, greeted him as an old and valued customer and the scantily clad cigarette girl cooed, "Back again, eh, cutie pie?" Mrs. Housewife, without batting an eye, extended a hand and murmured, "I don't believe we've met, I'm Mrs. Pie."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Pinworms travel from person to person in even the cleanest homes and they're more contagious than measles.

Their microscopic eggs hatch soon after they are swallowed and the new arrivals swarm down to the appendix, where they romp and roam enjoying the better things of pinworm life. Although they occasionally mimic appendicitis, they usually do no harm.

When Madam Pinworm's expecting, she races down to the end of the intestine. Under cover of darkness, she creeps onto the skin to lay her eggs. All this usually triggers unbearable itching.

As a result eggs spread onto bedclothes and shaking out this linen catapults thousands of eggs around the room. They get on toys, doorknobs, into the mouth and soon reinforce the pinworm population.

Pinworms spread faster than the plague. By the time you find them, all your children are probably infected — and possibly Mom and Dad, too. That's why everyone's treated together.

If new eggs stop pouring in, pinworms eventually disappear. Medicines speed the cure. Some you take for weeks; another cures with one dose.

You still have to keep out new eggs.

Fold bedclothes gently each morning and dump into hot laundry water — or cold water containing 1 cup of ammonia in each 5 gallons. Scrub hands frequently, especially before lollipops or cigarettes. And trim nails short.

Various ointments help relieve itching at night. You can wash off the salve when you shower each morning.

Rugs, curtains, upholstered furniture and tables have to be vacuumed weekly. Boil or disinfect all toys. Cleanse bathroom fixtures with 2 per cent cresol.

Finally, the great day comes and pinworms are gone. Now you simply have to pray that Junior's friend — who first gave him pinworms — has been cured, too!

No Deviation

By George Sokolsky

For an American to understand what is going on inside the Soviet Union, he must first adjust his mind to the Party. Nothing like it exists in our country. President Kennedy has in his Cabinet some Republicans and some who are unrelated to parties. This is impossible in any state within the Soviet Union.

Such membership does not involve mere belonging; it is a total acceptance of the Party line of the moment. It means the devotion of all the hours of one's life to the Party. There can be no deviation even of the minutest nature. In the time of Lenin and Stalin such deviation was punished by death. During Khrushchev's management of the Party, he has substituted exile for death.

Khrushchev's Party line is based upon the general principle of competitive co-existence with capitalist countries. Such co-existence means that ultimately the Soviet Union will absorb all nations in the world without exception. This will be accomplished without war, and even with a reduction of Communist penetration. Khrushchev assumes that Marxist economics and sociology are so superior to capitalism that there can be no resistance to this movement.

The present struggle within the Communist Party is perhaps the most serious that has ever taken place. Actually, from a strict Marxist-Leninist standpoint, what Khrushchev proposes is nationalistic Communism. Under Khrushchev's system Russia could become the richest and most powerful nation in the world, but it would not be a Marxist nation. The idea of the dictatorship of the proletariat would be abandoned, and in its place would appear a managerial society utilizing capitalist techniques.

Whereas such a system might raise the standard of living of the Russian people, or of the people of any state, beyond the conception of man at the present time, it would nevertheless be a total rejection of Marxism and therefore must be rejected. The struggle between Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung is on this issue; the struggle between Khrushchev and the remaining Stalinists is on this issue. For anyone to compromise would mean an abandonment of the Revolution.

We enter here upon a concept of the Party which is strictly ecclesiastical. Those who accept the Marxist - Leninist - Stalinist line regard the success of the Revolution as more important than the welfare of the people. They believe that when the Revolution has succeeded throughout the world all benefits to man now existing in a capitalist state would automatically accrue to the people. They would use any method to achieve their end including war and revolution.

Various ointments help relieve itching at night. You can wash off the salve when you shower each morning. Rugs, curtains, upholstered furniture and tables have to be vacuumed weekly. Boil or disinfect all toys. Cleanse bathroom fixtures with 2 per cent cresol. Finally, the great day comes and pinworms are gone. States in a very precarious situation. It has no techniques for supporting Khrushchev; at the same time it must recognize the enormous peril in the "Albanians". Mao Tse-tung wants war. From every logical standpoint it is sound for him to have war provided that Russia does the fighting. Red China would come out of such a situation as the principal Communist state unless there were a total defeat.

The successor group to Khrushchev would be dependent upon Mao Tse-tung. Mao's greatest risk is the loss of Chinese population, of whom, if he lost 300,000, his country would be economically sounder and could be managed more efficiently. This is a horrible picture that I paint, brutal in every aspect, but I am convinced that it is the picture that we face today and that we may have to meet by war.

From an American standpoint the defeat at this moment of Khrushchev would mean the success of Mao Tse-tung, Molotov and Su-rov. It would mean the success of the "Albanians". This could mean immediate war. This puts the Government of the United

Cricket Chirps Unhappy Tune

Connie Stevens Back At Work on TV Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cricket, otherwise known as Connie Stevens, was back at work this week after a two-month absence, but she was chirping an unhappy tune.

Connie and Warner Bros. have been feuding, but she returned to the "Hawaiian Eye" TV series for an amazingly sensible reason: "I signed the contract with my eyes open, and I intend to honor it."

The beautiful blonde from Brooklyn has been in the news lately with her sudden flight to Paris with Glenn Ford and her off-again, on-again relations with the studio.

Concerning the former, she lapsed into Hollywoodese: "Mr. Ford and I are good friends, and that is all. I go out with other men and I don't know if he goes out with other women; I've never asked him."

"I just got over one big romance. I'm not going to start another one right now." She was engaged last year to actor Gary Clark.

On her studio relations, she was more explicit.

"Things don't always turn out the way you hope they do when think you are going to be given a chance to grow and develop, but instead you find you are used as a commodity."

"I want to do features. But it has been over a year since I made 'Susan Slade,' and the studio hasn't had a thing for me."

"It has been established that I am a recording star. I would also like to learn dancing, but the studio has no one to teach it."

"That is the main thing: I want to grow. I'm 23 years old and I want to learn everything I can. I'm not interested in the present. I don't even care about money. I just want to last in this business."

Nudes on Ceiling To Stay There, U.S. Aide Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the National Parks Service has no intention of covering up those gaily cavorting semi-nudes on the ceiling of the ornate Vanderbilt mansion at Hyde Park, N.Y.

"It is true there is a semi-nude woman there, but she is lovely," Conrad L. Wirth said Tuesday. "It is a nice thing."

The lightly clad ladies are in a 20 x 30-foot painting which workmen have uncovered on the ceiling of the mansion's plush guest room. The mansion, operated by the Interior Department as a national historic site since 1940, was built in 1898 by railroad tycoon Frederick W. Vanderbilt.

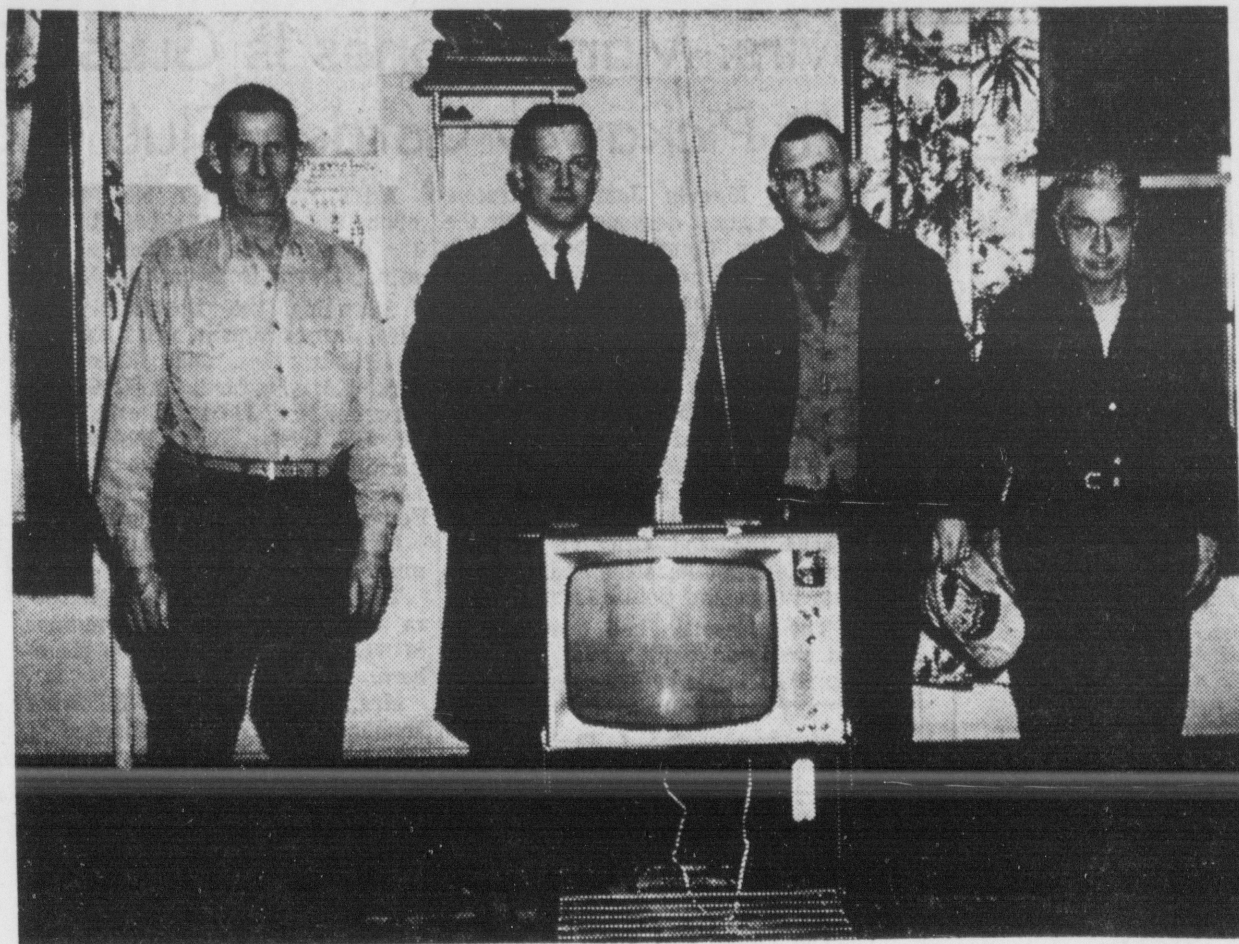

Wirth said Mrs. Vanderbilt apparently had the ceiling painted over shortly before she died in 1926. After workmen cleaned away the water paint covering, the question arose whether the painting would be open to the public.

Police Chief Lauds Cleanup in Newport

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Police Chief Upshere White says vice and gaming in Newport have been reduced to a minimum.

In a letter to members of his department, Chief White Tuesday praised the policemen for the "consistent and commendable manner" in which they have performed their duties, and added:

"This, together with their close observance of possible violations of vice, gaming and prostitution laws — violations I feel have been reduced to a minimum — impels me to extend to each and every member of this department my sincere thanks for a job that is being well done."

SOURCE OF ENJOYMENT — This television set has become a source of added entertainment for residents at the Pickaway County Home. The TV was donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Present for the installation were, from the left: Joe Moore, a resident of the home, Charles Allton and John Fissell of the local Jaycees, and Delbert Hardy, also a resident of the home.

Jaycees Effort Means Added Enjoyment for County Home

Evenings are a little more pleasant now for aged residents at the Pickaway County Home.

Entertainment during leisure hours has picked up considerably since last week when the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce presented the Home with a new portable television with a 19-inch screen. The set was placed in the men's lounge.

Making the presentation to Mrs. Muriel Ott, Home superintendent, and her residents were Charles Allton and John Fissell, co-chairmen for the Jaycees project.

Original idea for the TV donation was suggested by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners. Following a study, Jaycees members approved purchase of a set not to exceed $150.

JAYCEES spokesmen said the Home already had two older model televisions, but they were in need of repair.

The TV, complete with an inside antenna, was purchased from Mac's Goodyear on E. Main St. Installation of the set met with immediate approval by the happy viewers.

Foreign War Toys Pouring Into Germany

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) — Toy Stukas from abroad — models of the Luftwaffe dive bombers that flattened Rotterdam and Warsaw in World War II — made their German debut at the Nuernberg Toy Fair this week.

War toys, once outlawed in West Germany under the Allied postwar re-education program, still find only a limited market in Germany, but business sources say there has been a definite upward trend in sales during the past few years.

Most German manufacturers are still keeping out of the miniature arms race. The West German press has been almost unanimously critical of war toys.

The stuka is an American import. An Army of unbreakable toy soldiers is offered by a British firm. The atom gun, guided missiles and scores of tank models also come from abroad to invade German playrooms.

Judging from the fair, however, customers are still most interested in more conventional playthings. These include cowboy dresses, an unending flow of car trains which often run only once a year — on Christmas.

An American-made talking doll, speaking 11 sentences with the aid of a midge phonograph in its stomach, is one novelty.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Although high pressure dominated Ohio this morning, skies were mostly cloudy. A few snow flurries were falling in the Youngstown area.

Early morning temperatures today were mostly in the 20s, except at Cincinnati where it was 34 and Chesapeake 32. Toledo reported 29 degrees, Cleveland 27, Columbus 26 and Dayton 24.

A developing low pressure system over Oklahoma will move eastward today and tonight, bringing rain and snow to Ohio. Several inches of snow may accumulate in the central counties by Friday morning.

The snow is expected to taper off to light flurries by Friday evening.

Little change in temperature is expected through Friday.

30-Day Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — The entire nation can look forward to "unseasonably mild late winter weather" during the next 30 days, the Weather Bureau says.

Its 30-day outlook said the middle third of the country can expect the greatest departures from average normal temperatures — as much as 6 to 9 degrees above normal — between mid-February and mid-March.

The forecast added: "Precipitation is predicted to exceed normal west of the Continental Divide, with heaviest amounts along the West Coast. Below-normal amounts are anticipated in most of the eastern third of the nation, with near normal amounts in unspecified areas."

MANAGERS in the district responsible for administering the safety program are Donald E. Colegrove, district commercial manager; Keith D. Wagner, district plant manager; and Mrs. Jayce Kohn, chief operator, of all "Circleville."

The district includes exchanges of Circleville, Amanda, Ashville, Baltimore, Laurelville, Millersport, Pleasantville and Williamsport.

Ohio Lawyers Not Allowed Incorporation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys cannot incorporate to practice law, the Ohio Supreme Court has ruled.

The unanimous decision balked an attempt by Merritt W. Green of Toledo, former law partner of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, to incorporate two judicial firms under provisions of a new law effective last Oct. 17.

Green said he sought to incorporate, with others, to receive tax benefits that would accrue to architects, doctors and various professional people under the enactment by the last legislature that included attorneys. Most law firms are partnerships.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown denied the incorporation requests and Green asked the high court for an order to require acceptance.

The Supreme Court, in refusing to issue a writ of mandamus against Brown, said its Rule 14 provides that "only natural persons" may be admitted to the practice of law in Ohio.

"Until this court recognizes the right of a corporate entity to practice law," the court said, "the secretary of state is under no clear legal duty to accept and record articles of incorporation for the purpose of permitting a corporate entity to engage in the practice of law."

The decision applies only to attorneys and does not affect incorporation of those in other professions cited in the new statute, court attaches said.

Local Phone Co. Employees Safe Drivers

General Telephone Co. of Ohio employees in the Circleville area took it easy behind the wheel in 1961. They chalked up an accident-free year of motoring.

Edward F. Egg of Marion, division manager, said today the 66 employees of the Circleville district drove about 247,323 miles without a mishap. There are 22 company vehicles assigned to this district.

Manager Egg pointed out that Circleville was the only district to post a spotless record. The company has 14 districts in Ohio.

Statistics of automotive driving records are kept annually as part of General Telephone's safety program. This program emphasizes safe driving habits and encourages employees to be safety conscious on the job, he noted.

Widow Is Named To Congress Seat

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Democrats in South Carolina's 2nd Congressional District have nominated Corinne Boyd Riley to Congress — an action she regards as "further tribute" to her husband, the late Rep. John J. Riley.

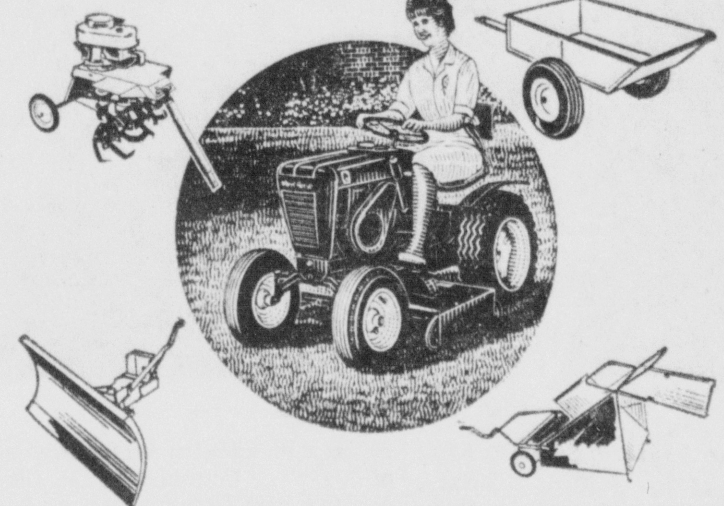

Mrs. Riley, 67, of Sumter defeated State Rep. Martha Thomas Fitzgerald of Columbia by more than 2-1 in a special primary Tuesday.

Republicans of the district met Tuesday night and decided not to put up a candidate against Mrs. Riley, who has promised not to run for re-election after serving out the remainder of her husband's term.

TWO MILLION PINT-SIZE MIRACLES FROM RED CROSS

Blood, and more blood. For a child, a loved one. Yours... someone's. Blood to save lives, to speed recovery of the seriously ill.

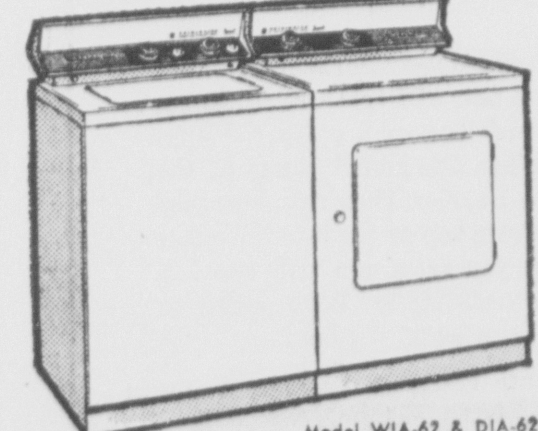

The Red Cross collects an average of over four pints of blood a minute, the year around, nearly 2 1/2 million pints a year, over 40 percent of all the blood collected in America. Most of it goes to hospitals for transfusion; the rest is converted into life-saving and disease-fighting derivatives, also given at no cost for the product to hospitals, physicians and health agencies.

But new uses for blood and blood products, for a fast-growing population, are constantly being found. SO THERE ARE MORE NEEDS FOR BLOOD TODAY THAN EVER BEFORE!

Don DeLong, secretary, read a number of appeals for aid. The Grange voted to answer all of them and also voted to contribute to the Heart Fund.

Dowler announced that the Grange Ritualistic Contest would be held at Scioto Grange Hall on February 22.

Dowler informed the members that the Grange and 4-H Building would be dedicated March 31. The evening will begin with a meal and a planned program.

A Fudge Making Party for the entire family will be the program for the next regular Grange meeting.

Gladys Hedges and Wilma Fraunfelder are in charge of the arrangements.

Refreshments were served.

The God's Willing Hands Class of the Church of the Brethren held a monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the home of the class teacher, Phyllis Cupp.

Class President George Reeser presided over the business session. The meeting began with a prayer given by Phyllis Cupp followed with devotions, entitled "Peace", given by Jim Anderson.

The theme of the evening was "Valentine's Day" for the games and refreshments which concluded the meeting. A buffet luncheon was served from a table decorated in keeping with the Valentine theme.

Those attending the meeting were: Lois Anderson, Merry Kay Glitt, Christina Kegg, Peggy Smith, Sharon Strawser, Sharon Boyer, Gary Harrison, Linda Dean, Barbara Dean, Bonnie Fausnaugh, Robert Anderson, Skip Lutz, George Reeser, Jim Anderson, Jim Starkey, Mary Ann Starkey, Rev. Henry Mankey, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cupp, Mark Davey and teacher, Phyllis Cupp.

The next meeting will be in the home of Sharon Strawser.

Culinary Charmers

When a suppersurprise is in the making, look southward to the Caribbean for different meat cookery ideas. . . like this palatable new way to serve family-favorite pork chops.

In the islands of the Caribbean, pork is considered the most delectable of all meats, and cooks have discovered countless ways of preparing it. Rice and tomatoes are often used with meat dishes, delightful enhancement for the flavor.

These Caribbean Pork Chops are peas, green pepper and rice. They're tantalizing for family or company meals.

Meat authorities remind you to use a covered casserole, for pork chops need to be cooked by moist heat.

Caribbean Pork Chops
8 pork rib or loin chops, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick.
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 large onion, sliced
1 green pepper, chopped
1 can (9 ounces) tomato sauce
3 cups water
1 small bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon saffron
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 1/2 cups rice
1 cup boiling water
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Remove chops from pan and cook onion and green pepper in drippings about 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce, 3 cups water, seasonings, garlic and rice. Cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Discard bay leaf. Pour rice mixture into a 3-quart casserole. Pour 1 cup boiling water over frozen peas. Drain, add liquid and half of peas to rice mixture. Place pork chops on top. Put remaining peas around chops. Cover casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until done. 8 servings.

Mrs. Marvin Jones Is Guest Demonstrator At Pickaway Garden Club Workshop Meet

Mrs. Marvin Jones, Kingston, was the guest demonstrator for the Pickaway County Garden Club Workshop Tuesday evening. The workshop was conducted in the recreation room of the Doyle Painter home at 1010 Lynwood Drive.

Mrs. Jones exhibited three arrangements in which corn husks had been used to supplant floral material. Mrs. Jones also had for display a number of flowers constructed from corn husks. These included Oriental poppies, roses, daffodils, sweet peas, daisies, tulips and poinsettias.

The poinsettia had been sprayed with red paint and the center stamens made of grains of corn.

After Mrs. Jones had talked about the exhibits, she instructed the group on her methods of creating flowers from corn husks.

Attending the workshop were Mrs. James Moffitt, workshop chairman; Mrs. John Eshelman, Mrs. Karl Seyfarth, Mrs. George Lawson, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, Mrs. Donald Archer, Mrs. Shelby Teegardin, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf and Mrs. Richard Jones. Mrs. Albert H. Schory was a guest for the evening.

The Misses Patricia and Barbara Painter assisted their mother in welcoming the workshop members.

Mrs. Huston made the following announcements in the absence of the garden club president, Mrs. Schubert Measamer: Reservations are now being made for the annual Regional Spring Luncheon to be held in Columbus on April 12; Course I of the National Council Flower Show School will be held April 16 and 17 in Columbus; and the Pickaway County Garden Club members are selling tickets to the Flower and Garden Show to be held at Veterans Memorial in Columbus on March 11 through March 18.

Make Sauces or Salads With Pantry Shelf Friend

By ALICE DENHOFF

A can of colorful and healthful fruit cocktail is a good pantry shelf friend. Appetizing as is, fruit cocktail combines with a variety of ingredients for delicious dishes good any time, for any meal, anywhere.

For Sunday breakfast, why not treat your family to a delicious warm sauce to be spooned over pancakes?

MAPLE FRUIT SAUCE

1/2 c. syrup from canned fruit cocktail
1/4 c. sugar
1 1/2 tsp. cornstarch
Few grains salt
1/4 tsp. maple flavoring
1 1/2 c. drained canned fruit cocktail

Heat syrup. Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir into syrup and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens slightly.

Stir in maple flavoring. Add drained fruit cocktail; heat gently. Serve warm.

Makes about 2 c.
A special sauce to dress up plain cake or serve over vanilla ice cream is an addition to your recipe file.

SPICY FRUIT SURPRISE

1 (1 lb., 1 oz.) can fruit cocktail
1/4 c. brown sugar (packed)
1/4 tsp. powdered ginger
Dash each, salt and ground cloves
1/2 c. orange juice

Drain fruit cocktail thoroughly. Combine sugar, spices, salt and orange juice; heat slowly, stirring frequently, until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat and blend in well-drained fruit cocktail. Chill thoroughly before using.

Makes about 1 1/4 c. sauce.
And here's a delectable fruit salad that makes a meal something special.

24-HOUR FRUIT SALAD

1 (1 lb., 14 oz.) can fruit cocktail
2 c. miniature marshmallows
1 c. dairy sour cream
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. lemon juice
Lettuce
1/2 c. roasted blanched almond slivers

Drain fruit cocktail. Combine with remaining ingredients except lettuce and almonds; mix lightly. Chill 24 hours.

Spoon into lettuce cups on salad plates. Sprinkle almonds on top. Serves 6.

Ashville, Williamsport Rack Tourney Wins

Bronco Attack Clips Monroe

Winners Set Fast Pace for 70-38 Win

Ashville's power-laden Broncos, stamping themselves as strong candidates to win their third straight Pickaway County tournament game crown, lifted the lid off the 1962 classic last night with a 70-38 victory over Monroe at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The Broncos, gunning for their eighth tourney title in nine years, capitalized on the fancy shooting of Dan Hollenback, Dick Hollenback and Tom Rathburn to throw a roadblock into any contemplated warpath by the Indians. The torrid Ashville trio collected 54 of their team's total points.

Ashville jumped off to a 14-3 first quarter lead paced by their dazzling three. The Broncos scored 11 points before the Indians could dent the bucket for a score.

Ashville continued its torrid scoring in the second canto to push the margin to 35-12 at the halftime. Pacing the Broncos in the second frame were Danny Hollenback with some accurate shots from underneath, Dick Hollenback hitting well on his jumpers from the corner and from outside and Rathburn with his deadly free throw accuracy.

JEFF BIGAM helped narrow Ashville's lead after the victors had built a 31-6 margin by scoring seven of his 14 points in the second stanza.

The Indians, after hitting only 13 per cent from the field the first two quarters, finally managed to find the range in the second half. The Broncos outscored Monroe 17 to 14 in the third stanza.

Danny Hollenback paced the Broncos in the third period by scoring nine of his 20 points. Mick Hunt scored eight of his 10 points in the closely contested quarter to lead the Indians.

Ashville, enjoying a 52-26 lead going into the fourth and final quarter, substituted freely and still managed to outscore the Indians in the closing eight minutes of play.

Dan Hollenback led all scorers for the night by tossing in 20 markers on seven buckets and six charity tosses. Dick Hollenback and Tom Rathburn each scored 17 points. Bigam with 14 counters and Hunt with 10 led the Indians. Shortly after the beginning of the second canto the Broncos held a 19-6 lead. Then Ashville hit another hot streak to score 12 consecutive markers and push the margin to 31-6 before Mickey Hunt broke the ice with a long jumper from out front.

ASHVILLE held a 20 to 25 point lead for most of the remaining playing time. The second team fashioned another brief scoring spree outscoring the Indians 10-2 in the closing minutes of play.

Ashville hit a respectable 39 per cent from the field on 24 of 62 attempts. Monroe experienced one of its cooler nights, hitting only 12 of 57 attempts for 21 per cent.

Both teams shot well from the charity stripe. Ashville hit 24 of 28 and the Indians 14 of 21. The Broncos' fabulous three hit 18 of 18 from the free throw line. Rathburn smacked nine of nine, Dan Hollenback cashed in on six of six and Dick Hollenback three of three. Jeff Bigam hit eight of 10 for the Indians.

Ashville moved into the second round of tourney. The Broncos will meet Williamsport Friday night at 7 p. m. The Deers defeat-

Tiger Matmen Complete Plans For District

Friday night the Circleville wrestling team travels to Whitehall to compete in the two day sectional qualifying matches of the Central District tournament.

There will be 15 schools taking part in the eastern division of the sectional qualifying matches. Circleville is rated along with Whitehall the defending champs.

Worthington, Upper Arlington and Franklin Heights, as a strong contender for the district crown.

Tiger grapplers Jack Cook and Tim Mogan placed in the district tourney last year. Cook was third in his weight and Mogan finished in the top 10 in the state meet.

All the scoring in the Central District Tourney will be done next Friday and Saturday when the finals are held at Franklin Heights.

IN ORDER for a boy to qualify for the finals, he must win two matches at the sectional. The two top wrestlers in each division at the district will earn a shot at the State meet held in St. John's Arena March 2-3.

Circleville's overall record including both dual meets and tournament competition is 21-8 for the season.

Friday's weigh-in sessions begin at 4 p. m. and the matches get under way at 7. Saturday's action starts at 8 p. m.

Boys making the trip for Circleville are Terry Kifer, 106 pound class; Jack Cook, 115; either Dave Troutman, Pete McDowell or Gary Betts in the 123 pound class; Tim Mogan, 130; Tom Bivens, 136; Dever Jolly, 141; Tom Wood or Roy Williams, 148; Tom Moore, 157; LeRoy Hagen, 168; Duke Fyffe, 178; Vern Reichmanis, heavyweight.

Ross Tourney Opens Tonight

The Ross County Basketball tournament starts tonight at Paint Valley High School with Centralia meeting Frankfort in the opening game at 7 p. m. and Kingston going against Clarksburg in the second tilt.

Friday night Catholic Central tangles with Buckskin in the opener and Huntington meets Southeastern in the other game.

Unio and Paint Valley, co-champs of the Ross County league, were given first round byes. On Saturday Unio will play the winner of the Centralia - Frankfort game and Paint Valley will play the Clarksburg - Kingston contest winner.

Semi-finals will be played Feb. 22 and finals Feb. 24 in the Paint Valley gym.

Houston Colt pitchers show 28 victories as against 30 setbacks for their 1961 action in the big leagues.

Deers Crush Jackson, 64-39

Victors Pull Away In Final Half Surge

The Williamsport Deers experienced little difficulty in dumping the Jackson Wildcats by a score of 64-39 in the second game of the county cage Tournament last night at the Coliseum.

The Deers were on top 18-10 at the end of the first period, but were outscored 15-11 in the second quarter.

The Wildcats threatened to make a real battle as they closed the gap to 29-25 at halftime but Jackson's rally faded early in the third quarter. The Wildcats couldn't find the bucket, connecting for only nine points.

The Deers, however, experienced a hot hand as they streaked along in devastating fashion clearing the boards at both ends of the floor and scoring 23 points.

Down 52-34 at the start of the third period the disheartened Jackson cagers' offense fell apart. They were only able to score five points in the final canto.

WILLIAMSPORT scored 12 points on three field goals and six charity tosses as Coach Chester substituted freely in the closing minutes of the game.

The Deers proved last night they intend to win this tourney. Nine of the Williamsport cagers got into the scoring column. Steinhauer led the pack with 16, McCoy chipped in with 15 and Gerhardt contributed 11.

The Deers defense was outstanding, forcing the Jackson cagers to shoot from outside most of the night.

Young Larry Beard of the Wildcats grabbed the spotlight for that night as he garnered almost 60 per cent of his team's total point output. Beard, an aggressive sophomore, connected on 11 of 28 field goal attempts and two of eight charity tosses for a total of 24 points. Clark Maugher was good for six on two field goals and two foul shots. Ed Martindale couldn't find the range, sinking only two of 20 field goal attempts and connecting on one of three charity tosses.

The only other Wildcats to score were Dale Rudd for one and Sam Cornwell three. Youth and inexperience hurt the Jackson squad. Three of the starters were sophomores and two were juniors.

The Deers drew first blood in the game, scoring two points on a tip by Richard Gerhardt. Steinhauer came right back with two pointers to put the Deers ahead by four. It was Steinhauer and Gerhardt scoring 16 points in the first period to give the Williamsport quintet an early lead.

BEARD and Martindale kept Jackson in the game the first canto as they accounted for all 10 of the Wildcats' points.

In the second period the wildcats connected on five field goals and five foul shots as they narrowed the Deers' margin to four points.

But a determined Williamsport team came out of the dressing room to start the third quarter. Steinhauer started the rally with a shot from outside. That put the Williamsport crew ahead 31-25 and from there on there was little doubt as to who was in the driver's seat.

Williamsport connected on 23 of 69 from the field for a shooting average of 33 per cent. From the charity strip they were good for 18 of 28.

The boys from Fox managed to sink only 24 per cent of their field goal attempts, 15 of 62. They sank nine of 24 from the foul strip.

Last night's win earned Glenn Chester's squad the somewhat dubious privilege of tangling with the Ashville Broncos in the first tilt of the semi-finals on Feb. 21.

THERE were 918 paid admissions at the coliseum last night. The sheriff's department handled the post game traffic expertly and the fairgrounds was soon cleared of traffic.

Some of the lights on the scoreboard didn't function properly for a short period, but Benis Lutz, the tournament manager, soon remedied that. Bill Cook provided a huge ladder which Lutz climbed to make the necessary repairs.

College Free Throw Record Accepted

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Warner, Gettysburg's basketball star, has set a major college free throw record, the NCAA Service Bureau here reports.

Warner made 22 out of 22 Tuesday night as his team lost 80-79 to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia in double overtime. Warner, a 5-10 senior from York, Pa., finished with 34 points.

York Larese, formerly of North Carolina and now with the Philadelphia Warriors, tied the national free throw record of 21 in a row during the 1959-60 season against Duke in the Dixie Classic. The 21 mark first was established in 1956-57 by Johnny Lee of Yale against Oregon State.

Duquesne Knows How Mighty Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Duquesne, rate among the nation's very best major college basketball teams, suffered what must have been the supreme ignominy Wednesday night—losing not only to a decided underdog, but to a decided underdog from the small school ranks.

Westminster of New Wilmington, Pa., pulled off the stunner at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh, outlasting the Dukes 63-61. The Titans, listed No. 6 in The Associated Press small college ratings, went in front at the midway mark in the first half and led by 32-22 at intermission.

Duquesne pressed repeatedly in the second half but the Titans had enough scramble to hold on for the whopping triumph. For Westminster, it was the 15th victory in 17 games—it's losses were to Pitt and St. Francis (Pa.)—while the loss was the fourth in 20 starts for the ninth-ranked Dukes. Five Westminster players scored in double figures, led by Wallace Sallade's 15 points. Willie Somerset had 21 for Duquesne.

The game was part of a doubleheader. In the opener Miami (Ohio) trimmed Pitt 75-72.

North Carolina State gained a measure of revenge against North Carolina, blasting the Tar Heels 85-57 at Raleigh. The Wolfpack, who'd been beaten five straight times by North Carolina, improved its Atlantic Coast Conference mark to 8-3, remaining third behind Duke (9-2) and Wake Forest (8-2).

Virginia Tech's Gobblers continued on their home winning tear, coming from 11 points behind at the half and overcoming VMI 85-71 in the Southern Conference.

Xavier (Ohio) zipped from six points back with an early second half spurt, fought off two Louisville rallies, and handed the Colonels their third loss in a row. 79-67. Navy (13-5) scored its 10th successive victory, 77-50 over Rutgers. Air Force, flying toward a possible tournament berth, won its 13th in 16 games with a 75-44 romp over Colorado College.

In a doubleheader at the Philadelphia Palestra, Temple built up a 42-20 bulge at halftime and coasted in against Penn 79-60 after LaSalle, had bumped Canisius 73-63.

Manager Gives Views

Athletics To Aim For 1st Division

By HANK BAUER
KANSAS CITY (AP) — I think our club is definitely stronger than last season. With a little luck we could contend for a berth in the first division.

Our biggest weakness last season was in our outfield. This year it can't help but be better with the addition of Gino Cimoli whom we acquired in the minor league draft; Bill Lajoie, a recent acquisition from the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Manual Jimenez, who we obtained from the Milwaukee Braves.

Cimoli is a proven big leaguer and is only 32 years old. In 1957, he hit .293 for the Dodgers and played in the All-Star game. Last year Lajoie finished third in the American Association batting race with a .320 mark at Omaha. Jimenez hit .325 in the Pacific Coast League with 17 homers and 76 RBI.

Another spot that could show considerable improvement is the pitching staff. Norm Bass, Jim Archer, Bill Kunkel and Ed Radow should do much better with a year of major league experience under their belts. I look for Jerry Walker to regain the form he showed while at Baltimore when he became the youngest pitcher in big league history to win an All-Star game.

The strong point of our club is our infield with Norm Siebern at first base, Jerry Lumpe at second, Dick Howser at short and Wayne Causey at third.

We still need some help in the outfield where the most glaring weakness is lack of a right-handed power hitter, and in pitching where we need a left-handed relief pitcher.

The Yankees are again the team to beat. Detroit was a good club, but the Tigers lack a good relief pitcher and bench strength.

Mediator Not Needed In Pittsburgh Parley

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal mediator says it appears unnecessary for him to sit in on negotiations toward a new contract for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

Mediator James Wilson reported negotiators for the company and United Glass Workers Union have made progress, although they haven't reached an agreement. The old contract is due to expire next Friday.

Swap of Excess Farm Products May Be Curbed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The upcoming Senate investigation of the government's multibillion-dollar stockpiling program may influence, if not greatly restrict, Agriculture Department bartering of surplus farm products for foreign strategic materials.

The department has acquired more than $1.5 billion of such materials in exchange for farm items since 1950.

Officials said no plans are being made for any short-term changes in this program. But they conceded that if the inquiry results in a conclusion that the government is over-stocked, barter transactions may have to be restricted greatly.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has called upon producers, processors and shippers to improve the quality of dry beans offered for export markets.

It said in a report that for a number of years foreign importers of U.S. beans have complained that quality has not been up to expectations.

Once the world's largest importer of beans, the United States has become the world's largest exporter. But, the department said, this position is being endangered by poor quality products.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today announced planting guides which called for the same total acreages of fresh summer vegetables for commercial markets as was grown last year.

The guides also recommended the same acreage of sweet potatoes and a 2 per cent increase for melons. Reductions of 3 per cent in total acreage for fall vegetables and 6 per cent in acreages of vegetables for commercial processing were recommended.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports more than 26 billion pounds of meat passed federal inspection last year under what the agency called one of the government's best services to the public.

The department said the cost of inspecting meat to insure that it is clean, wholesome, free from adulteration and properly labeled is on cent a person a month.

Junior High Drops Contest At Chillicothe

The Circleville Junior High cagers dropped a heartbreaking contest, 38-37, to Bainbridge last night at the Chillicothe Jr. high basketball tournament.

The little Tigers, down 8-4 in the first quarter, and 19-15 at half-time, staged a terrific comeback effort in the third period to knot the score at 26 all going into the final canto.

In that period Bainbridge outscored the Roundtowners 12-11, to take the game.

Bainbridge had the advantage of experience in the tournament—this being their second game—and it seemed to be this experience that made the difference in the teams. The Bainbridge squad, sporting a 7-7 record, made their foul shots and buckets when they needed them.

Shoemaker led the way for the Ross County group with 15 points. Dave Iery with 11 and Howard Dade with 16 provided the scoring impetus for the Corwin St. cagers.

Court Bars Collection in Damage Suit

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The 9th District Court of Appeals has ordered a perpetual stay of execution barring Donald R. Kutza of Lorain from collecting on a $500,000 damage verdict against Loren C. Parker of Oberlin.

Parker maintained that, because he was adjudged bankrupt by the U.S. District Court April 4 1959, Kutza was not entitled to any part of the judgment that had been awarded by a Lorain County Common Pleas Court jury. The damage suit stemmed from a collision of their cars near Wellington Feb. 24, 1956.

The appeals court did rule that Kutza was entitled to $15,500 paid him by the Superior Risk Insurance Co. to apply on the judgment. Parker had claimed the contrary.

The district court ruled Wednesday the insurance company was liable under its contract notwithstanding the discharge in bankruptcy of the insured.

Feed Grain Signups Now Under Way

Growers of corn, grain sorghum and spring-planted barley now may sign up to take part in the 1962 feed grain program, Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation County Committee announced today. The signup period will extend through March 30.

Operation of the program, the chairman explained, will be similar to the 1961 feed grain program.

He said its objectives are the same — (1) To increase farm income; (2) to further reduce the excess feed grain stocks; (3) to reduce Government costs of farm programs; (4) to reduce the risk of serious overproduction of meat, poultry and dairy products; and (5) to assure consumers of fair and stable prices for these products.

All producers of corn, grain sorghum or spring barley are eligible to take part in the feed grain program which calls for the diversion of acreage formerly planted to one or more of these crops into an approved soil-conserving use. The program is voluntary, but program participation by farmers who produce these feed grain crops is required if they want to be eligible for price support on their feed grain crops, including oats and rye.

MOWERY said for corn and grain sorghum, there must be a minimum reduction of 20 per cent from the farm's 1959-60 average of these crops and the producer (other than certain producers of malting barley) must not exceed the farm's barley base.

For barley (except certain malting varieties), there must be a minimum reduction of 20 per cent in the farm's average 1959-60 barley acreage, and the producer must not exceed the farm's corn and grain sorghum base.

Producers of oats and rye will be eligible for 1962-crop price support if they comply with either the corn-grain sorghum program or the barley program.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wednesday night's "Tour of the White House" produced by CBS and shared by NBC, gave every American an opportunity to stroll through the historic home of our presidents in the most informed company possible, its current mistress.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, obviously reveres the old place and has accumulated a vast store of information about its history. She thus was a marvelous guide.

It was informative, entertaining television at its very best and credit is due largely to the easy, authoritative commentary by Mrs. Kennedy as the cameras traveled through the public rooms of the President's house. The First Lady casually laced her commentary with historical tidbits — that Abraham Lincoln was angered because his wife spent so much for the carpet in the East Room; that Thomas Jefferson introduced the nation to macaroni, waffles, and ice cream; that Woodrow Wilson so disliked Teddy Roosevelt's stuffed animal heads in the state dining room that he always seated himself so he couldn't see them while eating.

The program used many old engravings and drawings to show changes in the White House over the years. There was one effective sequence of Lincoln portraits made each year between 1861 and 1865, during which his face changed from that of a vital man in middle life to an old, haggard and tired one.

"Here," commented Mrs. Kennedy, "is what the White House did to President Lincoln."

It was definitely a non-political tour. President Theodore Roosevelt emerged as a hero for his 1902 restoration of the White House and elimination of Victorian clutter. Mrs. Eisenhower was credited with bringing "superb" American antiques into the diplomatic reception room.

Business Briefs

G. C. Murphy Co. earned $3.80 per share, a 9.8 per cent increase over the $3.46 earned in 1960, based on the number of shares outstanding at the respective year-end, according to J. S. Mack, chairman of the board and president.

Net earnings were $7,951,066 compared with $7,344,015 for 1960, gradually improving economic conditions in the last six months assisted the Company's substantial recovery from the first half year's decline.

During the year the company opened six Murphy stores and 14 Morgan & Lindsey units, and closed four including one destroyed by fire. They also purchased one Cobb location in Lubbock, Texas, and reopened it as a modern Murphy store; acquired 17 Terry Faris stores in southwest Texas on February 1, and nine Bruners stores and one under construction in San Antonio and Corpus Christi, Texas, on December 15, for a year end total of 480 stores compared with 437.

There are presently 32 locations under construction, lease or option including the company's first store in Tennessee.

Sales of $256,419,909 for 1961 set a new record and the trend was continued in January of this year with an 18.6 per cent increase.

U.S. Negotiators Say Reds Brake Culture Exchange Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Premier Khrushchev is pressing President Kennedy for a personal meeting, Soviet diplomats here rigidly refuse to broaden contacts aimed at improving the flow of information between the two countries.

U.S. negotiators reported this after two weeks of talks between U.S. and Soviet delegations. The conference started Jan. 31 with the goal of negotiating a new agreement on cultural exchanges to replace the one that expired at the end of last year.

Although the Soviet attitude was more or less expected by U.S. specialists, it is nonetheless disappointing to those who hoped for greater flexibility. This hope was based on recent direct contacts between President Kennedy and Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, on the one hand, and Alexei Adzhubei, Khrushchev's son-in-law, and Mikhail Kharlamov, the Soviet press chief on the other.

Kennedy told a news conference Jan. 31 that his talks with Izvestia editor Adzhubei, Salinger's Paris meeting with Kharlamov and the White House press chief's invitation to Moscow are "directed to improving communications."

Kennedy said: "I believe that any exchange of information, any exchange of views, any cooperation of any kind in these very hazardous times will be very useful."

During the two weeks of talks between the delegations, the Soviets asked for a greater number of exchange visits by scientists, technicians and artists.

But the Soviet negotiator showed no interest in more exchanges in the field which the U.S. side considers most important and which had been neglected until now: The general area of information, including newspapers, magazines and books, radio and television broadcasts, and exhibitions.

The U.S. view is that better understanding between the two peoples could best be promoted in this broad field.

The atmosphere of the talks was described as businesslike, the U. S. specialists still hope that a mutually satisfactory agreement can be reached before the end of this month.

Enthusiasm Still High in New Concord

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—The enthusiasm of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s parents for their son's trip into space remained undimmed today despite the ninth postponement.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr. had planned to arise early once again to watch the scheduled blast-off at Cape Canaveral. But late Wednesday night the shot was postponed again until Friday. They have three television sets in their living room so they can watch all three network programs covering the event.

Still with them in their home are Mrs. Glenn's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Cambridge, and the Thompsons' son, Maj. Robert Thompson of Wright - Patterson Air Force Base.

The corps of newsmen and cameramen which has tried to keep a space vigil with the parents was fewer in number than before the recent postponements. But many remained, along with TV network personnel.

As for the little village itself, on U.S. 40 halfway between Columbus, Ohio, and Wheeling, W. Va., there was no visible lessening of interest in the flight. Just about everyone in town plans to watch the blast-off, when it finally comes, including children in the schools which Lt. Col Glenn attended as a boy.

Guru or "Teacher" Nanak, founder of the Sikh faith, borrowed much of his doctrine from Islam. Converts were called Sikhs from the Sanskrit word for disciple. They worshipped a universal God, rejected Hindu caste.
